What is NLWA?

Second largest waste disposal authority in the country

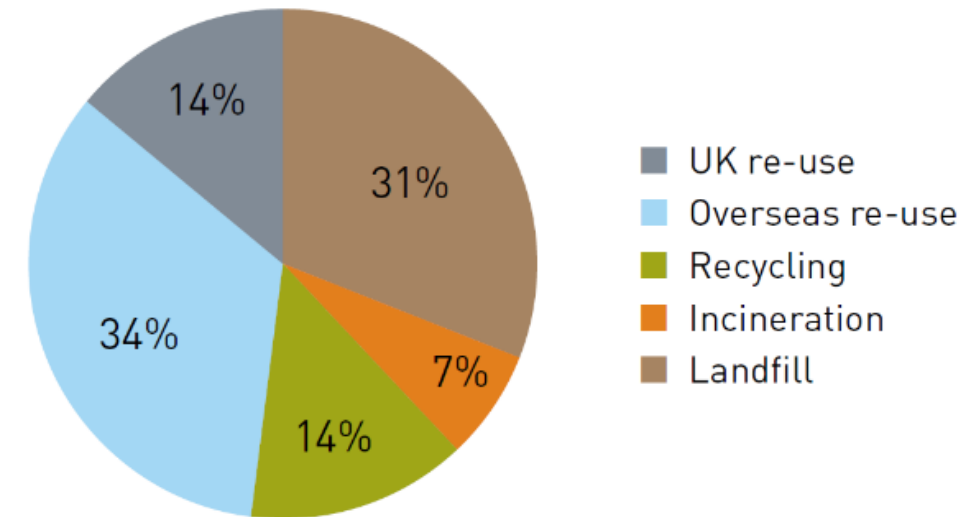

NLWA's primary function:

- Arrange for recycling and treatment for most boroughs
- Manage reuse and recycling centres
- Promote waste minimisation and recycling

Textile Industry

- In 2018, UK households spent £60.5bn a year on clothing, accounting for 5% of their overall shopping.
- The average UK household owns around £4,000 worth of clothes, and around 30% of clothing in the average wardrobe has not been worn for at least a year.
- 67 million clothes could be discarded by UK homes in the upcoming months. Two in five Britons have admitted having a clothing clearing-out during lockdown and most are storing items for charity donations.

Capsule Wardrobe

Ander Zabala- Hackney Recycling Manager

Why?

- Zero Waste 2019 journey, #1bin1year
- Focused on packaging waste, moved onto clothes
- Read online, watched documentaries (True Cost)
- Bought less, bought 2nd hand or sustainable materials
- Lockdown clear-cuts & NLWA challenge accepted

Tips/Benefits

- Kept it simple, plain, or classic colours
- Make your own rules, the aim is to reduce number of items
- Useful to see at a glance the combinations (Photos/Video)
- More Space! New combinations that you love! Save Money!
